NORTH CAROLINA THE DATTLE OF RENTONS[From the Richmond Inquirer, March 27.]

The situation in North Carolina becomes more and more interesting. With his army scarcely organized, Gen. Johnston has been able to resist the advance of the enemy from the time he left the Cape Fear. On three occasions he had given Shaman a severe lesson in the art of war, while at Kinston he was no less severely punished by Gen. Bragg.

The battle of Bentonsville, on Sunday, the Lub, was a triumly to our arms. On the 20th thereform was intrenched, and no fighting occurred. On the 21st there was heavy skirmishing and some severe fichting, in which the enemy were bootly handled. That night he moved off. Gen. Johnston maintains his position and will be ready to meet the enemy at all points. The news coming to us from the theat of great events near Richmond and Petursburg needs no comments. It is glorions, and ever passing day and almost every passing hour add to its glory. We have taken not less than 2'.000 of Lec's men prisoners, and his killed and wounded will no doubt swell his loss to full one half, if not more, of the whole army that he had a week ago. He is now in full re treat, but Grant is in full and hot pursuit with a fair prospect of capturing the demoralized, rited, and broken remnant of his forces. This victory is one of the old-fashioned vic tories. It is like one of the old victories of Frederick or Napoleon. It is a victory tha may well be expected to prove decisive of the
